Alliance with Research Tree Provides Complimentary Access to Investment Research on Union Jack

Union Jack Oil plc (AIM: UJO) a UK focused onshore hydrocarbon production, development and exploration company is pleased to announce that, courtesy of Research Tree and Union Jack, complimentary access to investment research on the Company is now available on its website, www.unionjackoil.com under the banner, 'Analyst Reports'.

Research Tree provides both private and institutional investors access to the latest UK investment research from over 90 Brokers and Research Providers, offering comprehensive coverage across the market with a particular focus on small and mid-cap stocks.

Research Tree's embedded investment research feed helps investors become more aware of a company's investment story through increasing accessibility, distribution and visibility of research.

Union Jack is of the opinion that the introduction of this new facility will enable the Company's expanding story to be accessed by both current and potential new investors via this all-inclusive investment research feed.
